

Welcome back to campus UVM! Dining made some major changes over this past summer and we wanted you to be the first to know. Here's an inside look at what's new and improved:

1. The grand opening of our new dining hall on Central Campus! It will feature eight open format kitchens where you can watch chefs prepare your food. There will also be a teaching kitchen, creemee machine, farm-to-table focused cuisine, a living wall, and so much more.
2. Cooking classes at the Discovery Kitchen! From pickling to perfecting the art of pie, with the price of a swipe into Central Campus Dining you have access to a variety of cooking experiences with Sarah, our Executive Chef of Culinary Education. Reserve a spot today with the UVM Guidebook app.
3. UVM Dining is on the UVM Guidebook app! Be sure to download it for first access to cooking classes, menu outlines, dining hours, a detailed map of where to eat on campus, and so much more. Available for both Apple and Android devices.
4. We set our sights even higher with the Real Food Challenge and pledged to have 25% Real Food by 2020 (we're already at 22%!).
5. Ecoware just got a little more economical: we decided to increase the discount from 15 to 25¢ when you use your container in retail locations.
6. Blast from the past: a reinvented dairy bar and smoothie shop will be opening on the second floor of the Davis Center! Featuring ice cream made with UVM milk from the CREAM program and smoothies made with organic fruit, there's an option for everyone. Look for UVM Ice Cream in Harris Millis and Redstone as well.
7. We're giving vegan and vegetarian options an even bigger emphasis on campus: check out PeaPod in Harris Millis and Sprout! in the Marche.
8. We know that you're busy, so we're launching Tapingo: a mobile ordering app. Whether you're sitting in class, about to brave the cold, or simply looking to beat the crowds, a select number of retail locations across campus will accept orders ahead of time. You can pay with a card, Points, or Cat$cratch right on your phone. Download Tapingo today!
9. If you're looking to personalize your dining experience a little more, check out Food on Demand (FoD) at Redstone Unlimited for a daily list of made to order meals. Order once you enter, then sit down, grab a drink, and wait for your buzzer to signal the preparation of a delicious meal.
10. Not living on campus? We have a meal plan for you! Check out our website uvmdining.com for a full outline of the possibilities for eating on campus, everything from retail points to a set number of swipes into our unlimited dining halls
11. Earn while you learn! UVM Dining is hiring. Looking for a flexible part-time position? Text HIREME to 82257 for a link to openings across campus.
12. UVM Dining staff is here support your success; please don't hesitate to reach out to us with any questions, concerns, or clarifications at uvmdining.com. And check us out on social media, @uvmdining, because we've got a couple surprises in store for you this fall.
